

Torphichen Street Hotel, Edinburgh
Commenced February 2018

150 bedroom hotel.
Bar and restaurant for both guests and visitors.

Client
Axcel Group

CDA obtained planning permission in June 2017 for a new 150 bedroom hotel on Torphichen Street in Edinburgh on behalf of Axcel Group. The project commenced on site in February 2018. Occupying a previously vacant brownfield site, the hotel will turn the corner of Torphichen Street and Dewar Place with a curved façade of high quality materials including stone and zinc cladding. The street frontage features extensive full height glazing activated with a bar and restaurant open to both guests and visitors. The design is informed by the varied urban context in the West End of Edinburgh and the proposed Exchange 2 masterplan.